

Nomination for May Queen and Escort Will Be Held February 11

According to provisions of the Constitutions (Art. 1, Sec. 3) nominations for May Queen and the Queen's Escort must be held by February.

Nominations are made by the student body at large. The criteria for selecting May Queen are as follows: poise, dignity, charm, grace, and beauty. The qualities necessary for the Queen's Escort are: fine countenance, well-proportioned physique, poise, gentlemanly air, and appropriate and neat dress. Runners-up in the election shall automatically be the Duchess and her escort.

The all-school assembly for the purpose of nominating candidates shall be held on Tuesday, February 11, at 1:45.

Freshman Class Will Sponsor Sweetheart Ball

The Freshman Class met on Tuesday, January 14th, for the purpose of planning and discussing the "Sweetheart Ball." Tom Wimbrow, president of the class, presided over the meeting held in the dining hall at 1:45 P.M.

The dance will be held on February 14th in the college gymnasium with the Morioles providing the music. Refreshments are to be served in the Social Room during intermission.

Several methods of choosing the King and Queen were discussed, and it was decided that each class would nominate one boy and girl. After all the class nominees have been selected, an all-college election will be held to elect the King and Queen to reign over the Sweetheart Ball. Myrna Baker and

DR. JOHN SAMPSON TOLL will be speaker at winter convocation to be held February 4. Dr. Toll is head of the Physics Department at the University of Maryland.

Winter Convocation Set for February 4

The Spring Convocation is a part of a new plan inaugurated this fall at STC. In planning the program for this year, the Cultural Affairs Committee felt that the college would want to take time out to point up important issues either academic or philosophical in nature. It adapted accordingly a plan which it believes will become traditional at STC, namely, that of having a fall convocation to be held early in October and a mid-year convocation to be held in February. This year, the mid-year convocation will be held at 1:45 P.M. on Tuesday, February 4.

Because of the eminence of scientific research, it was recommended that the mid-year speaker be one from the field of Science. Accordingly, Dr. John Sampson Toll, head of the Physics Department at the University of Maryland, will speak to the student body and faculty.

Professor Toll received his B.S. degree in 1944 from Yale University, his M.S. in 1948 and his Ph.D. in 1952 from Princeton University.

Program of Weekend Activities Planned

The Social Committee, headed by J. H. Williams, is planning a calendar of events for next semester. This will be given to clubs and classes here on campus. By providing more planned activities, especially on weekends, the committee hopes to encourage a greater number of students to remain on campus on weekends.

Some of the activities under consideration are: hayrides, square dances, Bermuda hops, card parties, and fashion shows. At present the committee is formulating plans for a talent show in which the various clubs will participate. All of these affairs will be free and open to all students.

On the agenda at their next meeting are plans for a constitution. This will enable future committees to plan effective events.

Members of the Social Committee are J. H. Williams, chairman, Anne Bozman, Janet Hart, Connie Mears and Lou Pritchard. Faculty advisors are Mrs. A. L. Fleming and Dr. Robert Elderice.

College Annual Was Founded in Year 1926

The college yearbook had its beginning in 1926, the year after the college was founded. Dr. Anne Matthews was the original sponsor of the annual. She retained that position until 1956 when Dr. John B. May took over following her retirement.

The yearbook has changed with time and especially in recent years. In former years there was more writing and less pictures in the annual. But it is now known that a good yearbook should attract attention immediately and for this reason should be mainly pictorial. At the present time the staff feels that it has achieved much in this field because of new photographic devices.

Students in former years, if they wished an annual, were required to pay an extra two or three dollars in addition to the activities fee. In the last three years, however, this extra fee has been dropped and every student is assured of a yearbook.

Why doesn't somebody come up with a book on "How to Get Out of Doing It Yourself"?

Active Program Slated By the Science Club

The Science Club has set up an active schedule for next semester. The club will take two field trips. One will be to the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia and the other to the Tidewater Gas Company in Delaware City.

Either a six or eight inch telescope is to be built.

Discussions of library materials for scientific research have played a large part in the past few meetings. Also discussed have been the aims and objectives of the entire Science Club.

The calendar of events for the remainder of the school year include:

Feb. 3—Linda Sehman—Plants; Feb. 17—Mr. William Yates—Eastern Shore Indians; March 3—Jerry Matthews—Demonstration; March 17—Jack Potter—An earth Science; March 31—Sam Brannock—Microbes; April 14—Joe Evans—to be scheduled; April 28—Mr. Alan Foutty—Principles of Physics; May 12—Open.

Dr. Wroten Writes Historical Features

Dr. William H. Wroten, professor of history at STC, is currently writing a series of articles on the Delmarva Peninsula entitled "Delmarva Heritage." These features are based upon significant historical happenings on the shores of Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia. Beginning the first week of December, the articles are to be published weekly in the Salisbury Times.

"... what is the heritage, the inspiring history of the Delmarva Peninsula? ... rich beyond the footnote status of textbooks," writes Dr. Wroten. Thus far, (Continued on Page 4)

Library Committee Formed by the SGA

A committee of volunteers has been formed in the S.G.A. to investigate student use of the new library.

The question at hand involves the number of students taking advantage of this new and valuable asset. If the library is not being used enough, the committee will try to determine the cause or causes.

Forming this committee are chairman, Sam Brannock, Delores Gardner, Becky Matthews, and Bill Livingston.

The College Chorus Elects New Officers

The College Chorus has elected new officers to serve during the second semester. Rebecca Matthews, who served as president during the first semester, will be unable to participate in the Chorus during the second semester as she will be a student teacher. Under the constitution, Carole Kirkwood, the vice-president, automatically becomes president.

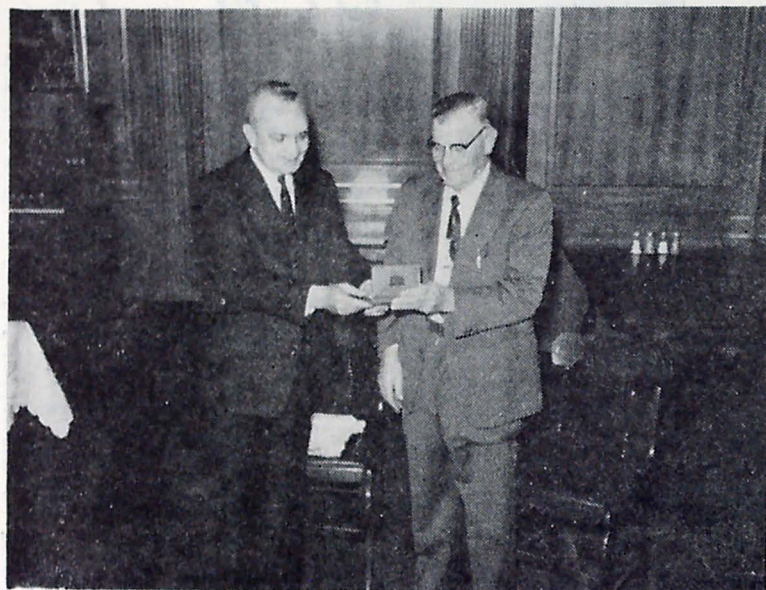

A new vice-president was elected to replace Miss Kirkwood. Jack Potter now holds this office.

Mary Evelyn Doepp, secretary-treasurer of the Chorus during the first semester, will not be enrolled at STC second semester. Consequently Jim Davis was elected to fill the vacancy created by Miss Doepp.

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss presents Mr. David Black with a watch in token of his service to the college. This took place during a tea honoring Mr. Black for thirty-one years of service.

David Black Retires After 31 Years' Service

"To David Azariah Black for excellence of service — 1925-1957." This quotation was engraved on a watch presented by STC president, Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss to a man whose main objective was to do his best in every way he could to fulfill his duties as an employee of this college and as a friend to all who knew him.

Mr. Black, a Shift Engineer, has been associated with STC since 1926 when he worked on the construction of the main building. After that, he served for 31 years winning the respect of the student body, the faculty, and his fellow workers because of his constant attitude of "I'll be glad to" regardless of what was asked of him.

A resident of Fruitland, Maryland, Mr. Black has a family of which he can be proud. Two of his daughters are teachers, one is in New York and one in Salisbury. Two of his other children are perhaps more familiar to us for his daughter, Mrs. Eva Bailey, now serves as a cook here and his son, Walter Black, is carrying on his fathers' tradition at STC as janitor. His wife, Mrs. Tina Black, is a practical nurse.

Upon his retirement on January 1, 1958, a tea was held for the faculty and staff in the social room of the college. Miss Ruth Powell, who as Social Director of the College was a member of the faculty for almost the same number of years that Mr. Black was employed here, poured the tea. Assisting her was Mrs. Jane Wallace, president of the STC branch of the Maryland Civil Service Employee Association.

Mr. Black's high standards of integrity were such that we should all feel obliged to acknowledge them and proud to duplicate them. An example of his splendid psychology is: "When folks don't get along, it's two people's fault!" Janet Hart

Clubs and Organizations

This article will conclude the series of articles set up to acquaint students with the various organizations and clubs here on the campus.

Women's Athletic Association

The WAA sponsors all women's athletic activities. The aim of this group is to promote interest in women's athletics. A program in both varsity and intramural sports as well as cheerleading and individual sports is set up each year. Equipment for these sports is provided for all by the WAA. Funds are derived from the student activity fee paid by all students at the beginning of each school year. Every girl is a member of the WAA upon her registration. The WAA Board is composed of the officers of the club and of the various managers of team and individual sports. The officers are elected by all women students; the managers are selected by the officers and by Dr. Alethea Whitney, sponsor of the group. Meetings are held on alternate Tuesdays at 6.00 P.M. Miss Louise Holbrook serves as president of the organization.

Men's Athletic Association

Tom Fallin is president of this group whose purpose is to set up a well-rounded program of men's athletics for the year encouraging active participation. Every full-time male student is a member of this association. The MAA Board is comprised of the officers and the athletic supervisors. Officers are elected by the male student body and the athletic supervisors are appointed by the officers. The student activity fee also provides funds for this group. Meetings are held as deemed necessary. Mr. Benn Maggs is the advisor.

The Photography Club

Interest and skill in photography are developed by those people holding membership in this club. The club is open to any STC student. Meetings, held on the third Tuesday of every month, are carried on under the leadership of the club president, Jerry Matthews. On an informal basis, the discussions are usually concerned with demonstrations and discussions on aspects in the field of photography.

The Evergreen Staff

The college annual is put out by this group of energetic people. Membership is open to any student interested in any phase of year-book work including layout, photography, and art work. This year the last deadline of the annual will be met in March, according to Mrs. Barbara Caine, editor. Faculty advisor to the group is Dr. John B. May.

The Holly Leaf Staff

Membership on this staff is open to any student interested in newspaper work and any of its many facets. The paper comes out bi-weekly during the school year and is dedicated to the presentation of news about, concerning, and of interest to the student body. Meetings are held only when the occasion arises. Mrs. Frances Fleming serves as faculty advisor to the Holly Leaf and Miss Joanne Cathell is editor.

Engagements Announced

Over the Christmas holidays many STC students became engaged. The following engagements have recently been announced:

Miss Nancy Johnson of Delmar to Milton Hopkins, Cambridge.
Miss Jane Martin of Annapolis to James Fuqua, Annapolis.
Miss Margaret Bell of Denton to Fred Hayes, Denton.
Miss Nancy Sutton of Chestertown to Frank Miller, Chestertown.
Miss Louise Holbrook of Snow

The Holly Leaf Salutes Mr. Fred Foltz

The term "uncle" has such a special meaning for America that when we chose to announce liberty we called him Uncle Sam. Perhaps evidence of like affect was perceptible when Frederick Foltz, Supervisor of Maintenance here at this college became "Uncle Fred" to the student body.

Uncle Fred, who also drives a bus for the varsity sports team and various groups, has been associated with STC for five years. When asked if he enjoyed his work, he stated: "Yes, for one reason, I like people."

Although he has a married son living in Annapolis, Uncle Fred's family here consists of only his wife and his dog, Teddy. Living on Bowie Avenue in Fruitland, he commutes everyday.

A cup winning golfer, Uncle Fred may be seen out on the course practicing putts in his spare time. Although a Western Shoreman originally, he concedes that one of the virtues of Eastern Shore is its nice flat courses.

Perhaps in his philosophy of life he couldn't say anything bad about anybody — lies the key to the respect we all feel for him as a man, the esteem we all feel for him as a friend — and the affection we all feel for him as "uncle."

FACULTY HERE AND THERE STUDENTS

By Janice Hubbard

On January 9 Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss was the principle speaker at Career Night at the Cambridge High School.

Joan Watters of Jarrettsville, Md. was a recent week-end guest of Debra Peters.

Nettie Stearn, Pat Ray, and Mary Evelyn Doepp were guest singers at Powellville Methodist Church, January 12. Ernest Fuchs also took part in the service.

On January 11 Jeanne Gladden had as overnight guests Patsy Smith and Phyllis Allen of Seaford, Del.

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss attended a meeting of Teachers' College presidents on January 17 at the State Department of Education, Baltimore.

Barbara Bradley of Hurlock, Md. spent the week-end of January 11 with Lucy Lee Holloway.

Mrs. Ina Ray Foskey is joining her husband at Fort Benning, Ga. where she will take up residence. They plan to leave for Germany in March.

Gail Hill of Dover, Del. was an overnight guest of Ann Bozman on January 11.

Gloria Miller spent the week-end of January 11 with Ann Kerns at Greensboro.

DELORES GARDNER AND JACK POTTER are high scorers in this year's bowling league. Miss Gardner led the women with a 97.8 average while Jack Potter came up with a 102.9 average. Both will be presented individual trophies.

Jo Patterson was a recent week-end guest of Joyce Flowers at Hoopers Island.

Mrs. Frances Fleming was the guest speaker at the Women's Council of Maryland State College Assembly on January 19.

A P2V-7, the Navy's largest ski plane, was the first jet-equipped ski plane to land in the Antarctic and at the South Pole.

MSM Convention Deemed Meaningful by Student

(Editor's Note: Miss Regina Hughes and Jack Potter represented the STC Wesley Foundation at the Methodist Youth Conference held in Lawrence, Kansas, over the Christmas vacation.)

M.S.M. carries meaning to many Methodist students but particularly now to 3,400 college students of all races from all states in the U. S. and Hawaii. These students met at Kansas University in Lawrence, Kansas, from December 27 to January 1 for the Sixth Quadrennial Conference of the National Methodist Student Movement.

A regular daily program was followed with variety in the individual events from day to day. These events included: morning worship, Bible study groups, platform hour, student fellowship groups, creative interest groups, evening program and then recreation or fireside group discussions.

Morning worship was led by Dr. Chester A. Pennington, the Conference preacher and the platform hour featured such outstanding speakers as Dr. Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, Dr. Harold A. Bosley, former Dean of the Divinity School at Duke University and present minister of First Methodist Church in Evanston, Illinois, Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, President of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, and Dr. George A. Buttrick, who is general editor of the Interpreter's Bible and author of many books.

The evening programs were concluded on New Year's Eve with the World Premiere of an oratorio entitled The Invisible Fire. This oratorio "attempted to stress those aspects of Wesley's conversion which link it with the testimony of many others in the history of the Christian faith, namely, the futility of man's attempt to find God for himself, contrasted with the inscrutable mercy through which God searches out man", to quote the writer Tom F. Driver. Following the oratorio a Watch-night Service was held and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered by Bishop Matthew W. Clair, Jr. to all 3,400 conference members within one half-hour. This meaningful event brought the week of activities and future memories to a grand close. Regina Hughes

Follow the Soldier

Not to fight but to watch,
Let's follow the soldier into battle.
The path of peace is the soldier's way,
From which he'll not stray.
With bold heart and open eyes,
See the truth of battle.
Come! But let the wounded lie,
For the aid-men will soon arrive.
His red flows on the green of summer,
The only way of getting slumber.
His battle cry is shrill at autumn,
But there's silence in the winter.

Maryland's greatest basketball victory? On Saturday, January 11, the Terrapins of Maryland faced the third ranked team in the nation, the North Carolina Tar Heels. This was a Carolina team that had been National Champs the year before and had a good chance of repeating if they went through the rest of their schedule in convincing style.

The North Carolina schedule hit a snag in Cole Gymnasium before a crowd of 15,000. The Terrapins played strong aggressive basketball right from the start. The Tar Heels played the first half in a zone defense with their big men, Pete Biennan, (6'6"); Lee Shaffer, (6'7"); and Dick Kepley, (6'9"), under the boards. Maryland continued their practice of ball control passing the ball around until they had a good shot. They usually hit but when they didn't Charley McNeil was in there getting the rebound and the Terps would start over.

Maryland had fairly good success in keeping Carolina from getting close to the basket. They did this by using a man to man defense and managed to keep the lane blocked up so that All-American Tommy Kearns had little chance to drive.

In the second half Carolina switched to man to man and except for the first minute, when Carolina cut Maryland's lead to three points, it was all Maryland. They passed and cut and Al Bunge, Charley McNeil, and Julian Weingarten hit on long buckets under the basket.

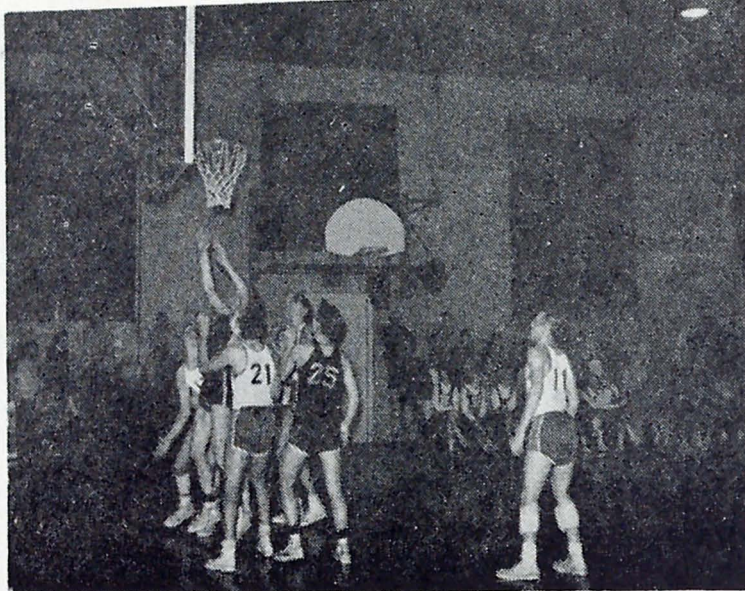

The Terrapins played an outstanding game, both offensively and defensively. Of course, there is one big question you have to ask. Can they beat Carolina down there? That question will be answered on February 22. Lets hope the Terps roll again.

Women's Basketball Squads Are Announced

The women's varsity and junior varsity basketball squads have been selected by Dr. Alethea Whitney. Comprising the varsity squad are Ruth Nielsen and Helen Luzetsky, co-captains, with Joanne Cathell, Louise Holbrook, Pat Lloyd, Peg Flannery, Helen Ellis, Joyce Bennett, Delores Cooling, Delores Gardner, and Ina Ray Foskey.

The J. V. team with Maria Simmons as captain includes Mike Shortall, Andrea Brose, Barbara Strett, Pat Hutson, and Adrienne Nock.

Carole Kirkwood and Barbara Caine are managers for the teams.

During the recent Wesley-STC game, Lou Gautier goes up for a shot. Despite this and hard playing on the part of all team members the STC men lost the game 78-70.

Wesley Defeats STC Gulls by 60-52 Score

The Men's Varsity Basketball Team journeyed to Wesley Junior College on January 14, only to suffer defeat to the tune of a 78-70 score. Although they came close the men never gained the lead. At the end of the first quarter the score was 25-19 and at the half the Wesley team had an 11-point lead, 42-33. By the end of the third quarter the score was 60-52.

During the third quarter the Gulls came the closest to taking the lead coming up two points behind Wesley. They were, however, unable to forge ahead and capture the lead.

High scorer for STC was Lou Goatier with 17 points to his credit. It should be noted that 11 of these points were foul shots. Following Goatier was "Sonny" Landon with 16 points. High scorer of the Wesley team was Burroughs with 26 points.

Prior to his appointment at Maryland in 1953, he was managing editor and acting chairman of Yale Scientific Magazine (1944), Proctor - Fellow at Princeton (1948-49), Theoretical Physicist at Los Alamos Laboratory, Los Alamos, New Mexico (1950-51), Member and Associate Director of Project Matterhorn Princeton University (1951-53).

Aside from his contributions to scientific magazines, Dr. T. W. Ph.D. dissertation was entitled The Dispersion Relation for Light and its Application to Problems Involving Electron Pairs. Dr. T. is listed in American Men of Science, Leaders in American Science, and Who's Who in America.

The College Chorus will sing "You'll Never Walk Alone." Invocation will be given by a member of the Christian Association. The formality of academic session will not be observed at the February Convocation.

STC Women Take Wesley Game 50-30

The Women's Varsity Basketball squad played their last game of the season on January 14 at Wesley Junior College, Dover, Delaware. The team took the game by 20 points, the final score was 50-30. At the end of the first quarter the score stood 10-3. Following this the girls maintained a 20-point lead throughout the game.

High scorer for the team was Ina Ray Foskey, a veteran of four years, who racked up 14 points.

Laurel led the Maryland team in attendance and wagering at 1957.

Demons Win Bowling League Championship

The STC Bowling League brought its first semester bowling to a close Monday, January 13, 1958. The league enjoyed a very successful season with student participation and interest at a maximum.

The Demons, captained by Joyce Bennett, won the league championship with a brilliant record of 26 wins against only 2 losses. Jack Potter, who bowled for the Birds, repeated his performance of last year and once again had the highest average for the men with a sound 102.9. Delores Gardner, who gave her capable feminine talents to the fourth place Fireflies, was high scorer for the women with an average of 97.8.

Shore Lane Bowling Alleys will present individual trophies to the high man and woman and a team trophy to the team taking first place in the league.
